302 HISTORY OF CLAY COUNTY

WILLIAM THOMAS JENKINS was born in Owen county, Indiana, June 30, 1832, but the greater part of his life has been spent in Clay county, Indiana, and he is now living on the farm on which he spent his boyhood days and the remainder of his life. His father, Ezekiel Jenkins, was born in Virginia, January 24, 1795, a son of William and Henrietta (Lewis) Jenkins. In an early period in his life he went to Kentucky and lived there for several years, coming then to Owen county, Indiana, where he owned a farm.

From Owen county in 1834 he came to Clay county and bought eighty acres of timber land in section 15, Sugar Ridge township, which he cleared and improved, but after living there for seven years he sold the farm and entered one hundred and twenty acres from the government in section 10 of the same township. This land was also covered with timber, but he in time cut away the trees and placed it under an excellent state of cultivation, spending the remainder of his life there and dying on the 22d of September, 1869.

He had married in Kentucky Henrietta Woodsmall, who was born in that state February 28, 1792, a daughter of John and (Preston) Woodsmall, also of that state.

Mrs. Jenkins died on the 22d of September, 1868, just one year to the day before her husband. William Thomas was the ninth born of their ten children, two sons and eight daughters, and the only one now living. His brother died in St. Louis, Missouri, as a soldier during the Civil war.

The boyhood days of William T. Jenkins were spent on the home farm in Sugar Ridge township, and he did the most of the clearing of this place, as his father was then in advanced years and previously had spent much of his time as a raftsmen on the Wabash and White rivers. The son remained at home with his parents until their deaths, and afterward continued to farm the place, and he has never lived elsewhere since the founding of the family here many years ago. He in time bought thirty-two and a half acres in section 13, Sugar Ridge township, also thirty-two acres in section 9, which he owns in addition to eighty acres of the old homestead.

He married on the 17th of April, 1864, Naomi S. O'Brien, who was born in Hancock county, Indiana, a daughter of George W. and Sarah (Brittan) O'Brien, natives of Ohio. Mrs. Jenkins was born on the 10th of September, 1842, and died on the 4th of February, 1883, leaving the following children: James P., whose home is in Washington township; Laura, the wife of Elsworth Brown, of Sugar Ridge township; Sarah Jane, who became the wife of Duffield Hicks and is now deceased; Samantha Gertrude, the wife of Charles F. Sprague, of Wisconsin; Emery S., who is with his father; and Cordelia Belle, the wife of James Burns, the county auditor of Clay county, and their home is in Brazil.

!NOTE: Blanchard, Charles. COUNTIES OF CLAY and OWEN INDIANA and published by Battey and Co. in 1884. Ezekiel Jenkins is a Virginian and Henrietta his wife a Kentuckian of Irish descent. They came to Indiana in 1823, settling at Rattlesnake Creek, in Owen Co., where they lived eleven years. Then they moved to Sugar Ridge Twp., Clay Co., where Ezekiel cleared up wild land and made a home. After a time he sold this and bought 120 acres, covered with fallen timber, half a mile from Center Point, where he lived until his death, which occurred 22 SEPT 1869 (page 480). Sugar Ridge Twp., Ezekiel Jenkins was an early settler. He settled in the eastern part of the twp. on land he afterward sold to George Grimes. Later he moved near the center part, where he now lives (page 261). An orchard on Ezekiel Jenkins' farm was set out in an early day, and several trees of which bear fruit at this present time (page 262).

!NOTES: Blanchard, Charles. COUNTIES OF CLAY and OWEN INDIANA and published by Battey and co in 1884. William T. Jenkins is a native of Owen Co., Indiana, born 30 JUNE 1832. His parents were Ezekiel and Henrietta Woodsmall Jenkins, the father a Virginian, the mother a Kentuckian, of Irish descent. William T. had charge of his father's farm twelve years before his father's death, and still cultivates it. He has a nice frame house of six rooms, hall and pantry; also good outbuildings, barn 40 X 40. His farm is well watered and stocked, finely located within a half a mile of town. Mr. Jenkins' opportunities for education were meager, only going to school in winter in bad weather, but he has learned much at home. He was raised a Whig, but is now a Republican. He has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church 23 years. He has never sought office, but has been elected to different offices, and declined to serve for lack of time or inclination. He has been a member of the School Board. He was married, April 17, 1862, to Naomi, daughter of George O'Brien. They have had six children--James P., Laura A., Sarah E., Emery S., Samantha G., and Cordelia B. (page 480).

!NOTE: Travis, William. HISTORY OF CLAY CO. INDIANA and published by Lewis Publishing Co. in 1909, Vol. 2. William T. Jenkins spent youthful days in Owen Co. Indiana. He owned 150 acres and sold forty acres to his son. He engaged extensively in breeding pure-breed hogs and full-blood short horn cattle. Republican. Member of School Board at Center Point for several terms. His wife died at the age of 43 in 1883. His has 4 daughters and 2 sons. His children are James P., Laura A. wife of S.E. Brown, Sadie E. who died at 24 years of age wife of James D. Hicks, Emery S., Gertrude wife of Rev. Charles F. Spray, who is minister of Methodist Episcopal Church in Wisconsin (page 96).

!NOTE: Travis, William. HISTORY OF CLAY CO. INDIANA and published by Lewis Publishing Co. in 1090, Vol. 1 and 2. NY and Chicago. William Thomas Jenkins was born in Owen Co., Indiana, June 30, 1832, but the greater part of his life has been spent in Clay Co., Indiana, and he is now living on the farm on which he spent his boyhood days and the remainder of his life. The boyhood days of William T. Jenkins were spent on the home farm in Sugar Ridge Twp., and he did the most of the clearing of this place, as his father was then in advanced years and previously had spent much of his time as a raftsmen on the Wabash and White Rivers. The son remained at home with his parents until their deaths, and afterward continued to farm the place, and he has never lived elsewhere since the founding of the family here many years ago. He in time bought 32 and 1/2 acres in section 13, Sugar Ridge Twp., also 32 acres in section 9, which he owns in addition to eighty acres of the old homestead. He married on the 17 APRIL 1864, Naomi O'Brien, who was born in Hancock Co., Indiana of George W. and Sarah Brittan O'Brien, natives of Ohio. Mrs. Jenkins was born on the 10th of SEPT 1842, and died on the 4 FEB 1883, leaving the following children: James P. whose home is in Washington Twp.; Laura, who became the wife of Elsworth Brown, of Sugar Ridge Twp.; Sarah Jane, who became the wife of Duffield Hicks and is now deceased; Samantha Gertrude, the wife of Charles F. Sprague, of Wisconsin; Emery S., who is with his father; and Cordelia Belle, the wife of James Burns, the county auditor of Clay Co., and their home is in Brazil (page 302). Mr. Jenkins is a stanch advocate of temperance and has never used tobacco or liquor in any form. He is an earnest and worthy member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and is a Republican in his political affiliations (page 303).
